

Artist's Statement

My photos have become an obsession. I used to just take a photo here and there, whenever I happened to have a class assignment, or just out of boredom. Now I have projects, and photo shoots. I spend endless hours editing each photo and obsessing over every detail.

I'm currently working on a project called the 365 project. It is where I take a photograph of myself every day for a year. Basically, it has taken over my life. I feel incomplete if I don't go to bed knowing that I took my picture of the day. I've started a little following on Flickr.com, and I have also seen myself grow immensely as a photographer.

My style of photography is very very bipolar. Half the time it's bright and happy, with beautiful scenes. The other half is extraordinarily morbid. With knives and blood and textures galore! I happen to love taking both kinds of photos and I obsess with making each picture exactly how I want it. My goal is to make it something I've never seen before. I want to be 100% original.
